

A COLD LAND is about two disabled sister and brother whose house was flooded...

There are always people around us who in desprate need of help and care.
They are left alone...and what we can do for them is no more than making their voice heard.